Guest Onboarding

The podcast

Sex workers tell their untold stories.

The Getting Naked in Frame podcast takes a frank look at the modern sex work industry through the perspectives of the people who shape it.

Focusing on each guest's personal journey, we explore what being part of this industry means to them—the community and passion, the ethics and the grind, and the future they want to see.

Listen to the introductory episode to learn why I started this podcast and my goals. Available on any podcast platform.

Wow-handsome guy!

What to expect

- Interview Style: Casual, conversational, and unscripted.
- Recording: Audio & Video optional (if you choose to record video, you also choose what platforms it can be posted to)
- Length: Around 60 mins or as long as you need
- Tone: Warm, candid, and authentic.
- No Surprises: You'll know the general themes we're exploring, and will always have the option to pass on topics.

Topics we love to explore

- Your background, upbringing, and formative experiences, you are willing to share
- Your journey into the industry
- Misconceptions and realities
- Challenges and highlights
- Ethics, mental and physical health, and boundaries
- Your hopes and insights for the industry's future
- What you have learned in the industry or life
- Let us know if there is anything you'd like to promote!

Consent

YOUR VOICE, YOUR CHOICE

- You're in control – feel free to skip or pass on any questions that make you uncomfortable. Anything can be edited in post, to your specifications.
- We respect your boundaries and want you to feel safe.
- You can review or clarify anything afterward if needed.
- If there are any particular topics you would like to avoid, you can let us know ahead of time. Or during recording.

In a nutshell

GETTING
IN FRAME

A conversation about the industry as told through your story. We want listeners to learn about the person behind the professional.

Your background, formative experiences, and what led you into the industry.

What events solidified your passion for the industry and decision to choose it as a profession? What inspires you and gives you fulfillment in the industry?

A look at your goals or future plans.

Finally, a piece of advice you would like to share based on your life experience, related to the industry, or life in general!

Tech & logistics

Recording platform: Zencastr – easy to use. Any help you need will be provided.

Your setup: Very little needed! Headset or mic, quiet room, good internet. Even standard earbuds with a mic work! If you have more advanced equipment, great! We've had issues recording on mobile devices, so a laptop or computer is ideal. Modern editing tools can do a lot with simple equipment- even remotely.

Pre-call: We'll send you the link and do a quick tech check before we start.

Getting into the groove: We'll spend a few minutes as an ice-breaker and start when you are ready.

Support: Reach out anytime with questions!
